

Guideline and Consensus Development Workshop

Moderated by: Liset Pengel | Oxford, United Kingdom

This workshop is recommended for transplantation professionals with an interest in guideline development. Topics that will be addressed during the workshop include determining the guideline scope and framing the questions, searching the literature, grading the evidence, formulating and presenting the recommendations and publishing the guidelines. The workshop combines short lectures and small practical group sessions, ensuring an interactive learning experience.

All participants will have the opportunity to contribute to the development of future ESOT guidelines.
